This seminar is designed to reach out to the trade community on the several changes, proposed amendments, to CBP regulations regarding changes the in-bond process published in the Federal Register on September 28, 2017. Whether you are a beginner or advanced In-bond processing stakeholder you should attend to listen and learn the comments and concerns received by CBP related to the original proposed rulemaking and other important In-bond functions you need to know!! This rule was effective on November 27, 2017.

LLUSCBA is hosting a hands on training presented by the CBP Export lot management team to learn the changes and proposed amendments to U.S. Customs and Border Protection regulations regarding the inbond process published in the Federal Register. The in-bond process allows imported merchandise to be entered at one U.S. port of entry without appraisement or payment of duties and transported by a bonded carrier to another U.S. port of entry or other authorized destination provided all statutory and regulatory conditions are met. At the destination port, the merchandise is entered or exported. The changes in this rule, including the automation of the in-bond process, will enhance CBP's ability to regulate and track in-bond merchandise and ensure that in bond merchandise is properly entered or exported. This outreach will address the comments received in response to the proposed rule and to which several changes were made in response to the comments that should simplify and facilitate the in-bond process. U.S. statutes and regulations are a shared responsibility between the public and private sectors. It is important that US Brokers, Importers of Record and Trade Stakeholders understand their role and have practices in place to prevent or detect potential problems at critical points along the logistics chain. We encourage you to attend this important seminar as the CBP Export lot management team will offer their expert guidance to help tailor these recommendations into procedures to effectively manage controls, to help ensure procedures are in compliance with U.S. laws and Regulations.
